

Subject: : Stream Reports

Topic: : Tulpehocken Creek, Berks County?, 7/3/2012

Re: Tulpehocken Creek, Berks County?

Author: : bam

Date: : 2012/7/6 8:54:47

URL:

Whatever the case, when I see the red slash on rainbows here in PA, it's often on good quality fish. I used to see it all the time in holdover stockies in Spring Creek. Some of the wild 'bows in Falling Springs have the slash as well.

I caught a 6 inch bow on Spring early this year or last... away from the hatcheries. If I wasn't in central PA I would have bet my house it was a wild cutbow. I've caught a few other what I believe are wild bows on Spring that didn't have the "cut"