i stopped at pinchot early spring, 2012, and the water was way down.

i'm glad it's back up now? i'll have to check this out very soon.

last year i was tearing up the big bluegills and crappie with my 1wt fishing from shore. this lake seemed to have a mud bottom, but still clean water with a lot of life in the lake.

another find for me! it's been a great day for me with new spots to fish!
