I would have to say Simms Freestone with studs . I fished 150 days plus this year and they have stood up great . I walk alot and the studs are still intact , only problem is the flet wore down a tad in the back . But that is to be expected from alot of use .. I ve tried alot of the brands out there and Slmms kicks but for the boots . As far as waders Ive never been impressed ,Patagonia is the way for that . Just my 2 cents !!!!

ps I f you fish alot and your boots never get a chance to dry over night , then dont get a boot that is made of syntentic material upper it will blow out ,....
