I have 2 pair of wading shoes - one felt and one felt with studs.

I wear the plain felts on streams that aren't very slippery - most of the limestone streams and the smaller freestones.

And on larger water - streams like the clarion and the yough - I'm definitely better off with studs.

I used to wear studded boots only, but I've found tht after some wear - usually about a year of hard fishing - the felts wear down some and the studs stick out more. This make walking in them a little uncomfortable and bothers my middle aged back.

So basically, I just use the studs where needed.

Buying 2 pair of boots should be no problem for you with that discount!
