The problem is too many people are hung up on all busy work of being tenkara simpletons.

Ah don't let all that zen bs get your panties all in a bunch. Its not taking over the world anytime soon... or ever. As said the 2 legged hominid holding the rod is the biggest obstacle to catching trout. (western, eastern, or somewhere south of Tijuana)

I'm cheap, its ghetto, it catches fish (at least on these sewer effluent enriched LV streams) I'm in to catching fish, how I get there doesn't concern me much. My other rods still see the light of day, when... I feel like it. Just now the mass muppets can buy into it and pass around the coolaid too (via Orvis)

I better stop, my post count is gonna hit 30, might start to seem like I care.
