

Subject: : Conservation

Topic: : Get off your @$$

Re: Get off your @$$

Author: : pcray1231

Date: : 2012/7/13 10:16:05

URL:

Lonewolf, I didn't say we don't have litterers. I would also agree that on a % basis, gear chuckers and bait fishers are more commonly the culprits.

That doesn't mean that all spinners do this. Correlation vs. causation. In no way does using spinning gear lead you to this behavior. And in no way did your switch to fly gear lead you away from this behavior. That's all I was saying.

So, in essence, while you were never among the litterers, you switched because you didn't want others to perceive you as being part of that group?