Guys, let's calm down and take a breath. FF is something we all love and it's the one thing we all share in common. Yes, we absolutely have to be aware of water temps and not fish for trout when they are too high but insults in both directions are getting us nowhere. We all have to judge for ourselves whether we should fish or not during heat like. I think the best thing that can be said here, is use a thermometer and common sense. Tight lines all!
