I would like to attend. I was at the spring newbie jam and had a good time. I've been out twice since then.

It will take me a couple hours to get there so I may not arrive until 7:30 am ~ ish.

When I get there if I don't see anyone do I go left or right on the stream to find everyone? (assuming I'm standing in front of the fly shop, looking at the fly shop)

I can bring some kind of picnic food, I'm thinking cold pealed shrimp, maybe some other things too.

Come on out, love to have you. If you get there and stand right in front of the fly shop, you will have probably tripped over us. We will be right there. I probably won't fish until later because I want to get everyone going and into fish if possible so I'll be looking for people. If you bring shrimp, you may end up being our best friend!
