

Subject: : Tips and Tricks

Topic: : Valley Creek Dry Fly Fishing

Re: Valley Creek Dry Fly Fishing

Author: : wvuandy1

Date: : 2012/7/26 16:14:27

URL:

Fished Valley Creek this morning.

Water temp. 62 - 64 various checks.

My day started off with some kind of a camp with 20 kids with nets wadding right through my spot so I fished downstream against the banks in still water until the crew took off.

I had a little Brown take my Beatle with an Al's rat dropped off on 6x about 12 inches back. (he took the A Rat) size 26.

I moved back to my original drift and started getting takes on a small Brown Ant and only landed one before I had to go. They were rising aggressively and being inexperienced I missed a few. Saw plenty of fish including a few nice ones.