I had a great time yesterday. It was so nice for all the experienced to just walk up and start helping us out. I look forward to many more events like this.

Aducker .. you (and I) forgot to show me all those flies you started tying. I think you told me awhile back that while u were resting ur arm u began tying .. gonna have to show me ur work next time we meet up. Glad that u were able to make it to fish and ur arm is feeling better

Crud I knew there was something I forgot when I was there. I had bunches of them to show off too:)
Yes my arm is about 80% with Shanes help showing me how to cast I had no problems with any shoulder pain Saturday.
