

Subject: : Tips and Tricks

Topic: : ferral wax or grease

Re: ferral wax or grease

Author: : Volksnurse

Date: : 2012/8/4 16:43:48

URL:

Quote:

delta_dog wrote:

Over 25 years ago my Grandpa gave me a tip that I STILL use today and dont see a reason to change because it STILL works. I can remember it like it was yesterday.....before every day of bass fishing with Grandpa he would always grab my nose between his thumb and forefinger and twist then rub his rod. One day I asked him Grandpa why do you always do that? He said to lube my rod. Every day before putting his fly rod together he would rub skin oil on each ferral. It worked for him and still works for me after all these years ive never had a stuck ferral. Thanks Grandpa!

Ummm odd that. Was just talking about nose oil lube for ferules last week. Also makes a reasonable quick floatant on a summer day. Just be careful where the pointy part is. 