Mr Wales,

I can imagine the number of readers of this post stretching their fingers, admiring the span, measuring it...explaining it to their spouses. Then using it as a "ruler" along their forearm. I know I have.

And what I realized is from my bottom of fingers(top of palm) to the inside of my elbow is around 15", not ten. You must have arms like a T-rex.

Now from the base of my palm(wrist) to the inside of my elbow is around 10.

How tall are you Mr Wales?

Nevertheless, a good thread. Tis prudent to have basic measurements on hand when when measuring fish. But when measuring longer things like tippet I just wing it. Buh dum ba!
