

Subject: : Gear Talk

Topic: : Good maps?

Re: Good maps?

Author: : Philly

Date: : 2007/1/22 11:46:26

URL:

I also have DeLorme Gazetteer for both PA and NJ. The one I find most useful for SE PA, I picked up at Mid-Atlantic AAA a couple of years ago is a book that has detailed street maps for the 5 county Philadelphia area. It has indexes of streams, lakes, parks, and I believe SGL along with streets and roads. They're all keyed to the map they are located on in the book. I've seen similar books by individual county for Lancaster, Berks, Chester and Montgomery. If you belong to AAA, you might want to check and see what they carry. I know I saved a few dollars, as a member, buying it through them rather than a book store. All the big chain book stores carry them, and there is a map store on Henderson Rd off of 202 near King of Prussia. There use to be one up in Doylestown on Swamp Rd, Patton Maps. They produced the maps themselves and had some really nice ones, but I'm not sure if they're still in business.