Your affability was much welcomed. It was a key ingredient in what is now simply being referred to as, "the ride".

I will cease to make this thread about me anymore, or private jokes. That said, you wait until you hear the remaster. I will drive us in circles for 64 minutes if I have to.

The key is close all the windows, but vent the rear sunroof. It turns the entire car into a resonator for the subwoofer, so you can really enjoy it without the highs distorting out from high volume from the remaster, which cuts out alot of the low end mud but easily overpowers and distorts the highs now.

I'm building a religion around this song.

Jack, you should be required to be in the rear seat for this, but no one will listen to your screams. Bring ear protection.
