I'm gonna say, don't. I fished it on Tuesday or Wed. (can't remember), and while the water temp was 69, the fish are stressed. I caught one large bow (my only trout, I did catch 4 nice smallmouth...on caddis!), and the fish took quite some time to recover. If others are having different experiences, I'll stand corrected, but after I landed that fish, I left. I felt that the trout didn't need the pressure right now.
