

Subject: : Stream Reports

Topic: : Tulpehocken Creek, Berks County?, 7/3/2012

Re: Tulpehocken Creek, Berks County?, 7/3/2012

Author: : johnnyd

Date: : 2012/8/6 14:35:44

URL:

Agreed Sasquatch...I got out for about an hour over the weekend...figured I was going to give it a whirl, despite the heat (haven't been out in a while). I caught a nice 14"ish brown that really needed some convincing to go back to his hole. After that, I just walked the water a little. I share your smallies on caddis experience...too cool! The water was low and clear enough that I was actually sight fishing smallies with a caddis dry fly...who knew! I would do that again in a heartbeat. I don't think I've had that much fun fishing dries in a while.