

Subject: : Fly Fishing Locations

Topic: : New Penns Creek Information

Re: New Penns Creek Information

Author: : TheGDOtter

Date: : 2012/8/9 12:01:10

URL:

"pccray the area he said they shocked is not even great water thru there ill take those numbers. Ive caught monsters in there i know whats there"

Second that, I would not go to the TT section if I were hunting for hogs on Penns. They get lot of fish through there, but there are other sections where there is less abundance, but more 17"+ browns. IMO, the TT section (out of all the class A water below Coburn) has the smallest average fish size, and recent shock data supports this.