

---

Subject: : Warm Water & Salt Water Fly-Fishing

Topic: : Are you getting the fever yet

Are you getting the fever yet

Author: : Fredrick

Date: : 2008/4/27 1:07:05

URL:

Well I went to a lake on Friday and figured I try fishing for some Pickeral. All I have to say is this those things are vicious they hit with some bad intentions 😱 . I caught ten Pickerel 1 bluegill (on a popper) in about three hours of fishing. I had a blast 🎉 . I had one nice size bass on but it got off 😞 . This is the first time I have ever targeted Pickerel and definitely not the last . I caught 3 on a Dahlberg diver 1 on a popper 2 on a half & half and the rest on Bary's pike fly . I think I want to try for some Musky and Pike now but I don't know of any places in the SE to target them . If any one could help me out I would greatly appreciate it I always practice catch and release .

Has anyone been out for some warmwater fish yet with any success ? 🤔