So this is why there were 30 guys down in there on Sunday. Come on people! paflyfish, please take this stream report section down! I've been fishing Meadow for years, and typically I might see 3 guys down in there. This weekend was like opening day on every other well known put n take. The first thing that popped in my head when I saw all the cars was "oh no, someone blabbed online". This was the first place I looked, and wouldn't you know it. Here we are.

Please people, keep the info to yourself. We don't care how many fish you caught on X stream on X date. Just take pictures and post them without specifying where. Do you not think about what this could do to the stream? You've got thousands of people cruising these boards looking for the "hot" water.

Unbelievable.
