I woke up this morning and felt I should attempt to edit the intemperate, hair-on-fire tone of my previous post. But I see now that the edit function evidently disappears after the post has been up for a while.

That being the case, the best I can do is to disavow the 2nd paragraph. I'm too old to get that excited about much of anything...:)

I'm still agin' the notion of turning the Allegheny into a tailwater though...
