I would always recommend you wear a floating device when floating any body of water. What I meant was, depending on where you float the river, its not a river at all really and shallow riding boats are best, unless you like dragging a boat around.

Josh thats ok bud, next year is going to be awesome because I should have my boat and a troll motor. I am going to target those carp, musky and smallies like there is no tomorrow. I hooked into another 30 pounder awhile back. Hook let go and went right in my finger between the nail when I put my hand up to block my face. Painful, but man what a fight.

Josh gave the OP some good advice.
