

Subject: : Tips and Tricks

Topic: : Ever use Scotchguard on CDC Flies?

Re: Ever use Scotchguard on CDC Flies?

Author: : joseywales

Date: : 2012/8/20 16:08:41

URL:

Frogs Fanny works fine, but I'm not a fan of how it's applied, and especially refilling it. I'm leaning towards a liquid floatant.

I have a bottle of Orvis Parafloat (circa 2000?), which I'm betting is a version of Ray Bergman's white gas and paraffin floatant. It works very well, but that fact that it's so damn easy to just dip in the bottle and blow it off is really what I like. Lighter fluid and red mucillin has also been very effective as a liquid floatant.

I'm also going to look at Dry Magic, as I read great things about that.