

Subject: : Warm Water & Salt Water Fly-Fishing

Topic: : Bluegill water

Re: Bluegill water

Author: : redietz

Date: : 2012/8/20 22:30:07

URL:

Quote:

One is hard-pressed to find redbreast sunfish in SE Pa lakes.

By the same token, most of the sunnies in rivers tend to be redbreasts.

They're very easy to tell apart: the redbreast has a long "ear", bluegills don't. (Of course other sunfish have one or the other characteristic as well.)