

Subject: : Fly Fishing Locations

Topic: : Valley Creek Info?

Re: Valley Creek Info?

Author: : jbomb

Date: : 2012/8/24 16:15:06

URL:

I fished there last Sunday. The water temp was 62° when I got there in the morning, and that was after it had rained hard Friday night. I only took that one reading, but the water was cool enough later in the day to give me a chill through my waders.

I hope to get out again tomorrow. I'll try to post a follow up with the creek temp. so that you can make an informed decision about Sunday.

I usually fish the stretch below the covered bridge, but I heard there are some good sections upstream. Last Sunday was a little crowded. I think I counted 6 other anglers on the stretch below the bridge.