Salmonoid- Good luck! I don't know if you have been there before, but ya'll should definitely make the hike to Pole Steeple the huge quartzite rock outcropping overlooking the park. We were there recently, it is a gorgeous view.

Pole Steeple, Lewis Rocks, and Sunset Rocks are all worthwhile climbs. A bunch of fathers and children rented the big cabin in the park (back when it could be rented) one winter, and we hauled all the little ones up to the top of Pole Steeple 😊 Attached is a view from the top that day, which turned out to be a beautiful late winter day. I wet a line that weekend too, but there wasn't much going on at the end of February.
