

Subject: : Warm Water & Salt Water Fly-Fishing

Topic: : Figuring out Smallie Topwater Action

Re: Figuring out Smallie Topwater Action

Author: : sandfly

Date: : 2012/8/31 12:24:45

URL:

He said they were busting minnows, it's a perfect scenio---minnows grouped together either feeding or fighting current with bass down under them shooting up and grabbing them. best way I have come up with when they are like this is to tie a really close imitation and just hold the fly in the current near the minnows or just below. Usaully the bass will hit it thinking its hurt or disabled..Same method can be used on the delaware for the Y.O.Y. shad now..A good fly would be the schoolie fly I posted. bass will try and take them by the mouthful...