

Subject: : Fly Tying

Topic: : parachute article

parachute article

Author: : ian_brown

Date: : 2008/5/3 13:24:58

URL:

For anyone interested, there's a good article on tying parachutes in the most recent Fly Fisherman. Basically, the author recommends using synthetic post material, tied in as spent spinner wings. The wings are then pinched and wrapped to form the post, which avoids the bulked up abdomens other methods create. Better yet, it looks really easy.