This appears to be a carp but the color is throwing me off... can anyone confirm for sure that this is a carp?

Looks like it may be an albino? I've never gone fishing specifically for carp but have caught a few on the fly rod especially on the Tulpehocken. Recently hooked a pretty big one on the Conestoga that I stalked and cast to. Could see him pick up the fly. After a couple of long runs he got off. They are loads of fun to catch. Boyer's tactics are similar to what I've done although I have taken some on dries on the Tully.
