5 Rings,

It does get crowded. I have a friend who comes from Pittsburgh and complains about what he calls the "Erie Pinch." He'll be all alone at a great spot. Then two guys'll show up and straddle him. Then they gradually squeeze in until he leaves in frustration, or just can't cast or fish.

But it's not always a big crowd in Erie--especially if you get away from the mouth and all the bridge pools. Also, try a weekday. Way less pressure on a Tuesday.
