Thanks Sandfly, good info...I have a white Bugger with Grizzley hackle that's my go to Chub imitation...I'll make sure a few extra of those make it in the box.

I know the stream (and the individual hole) in your pics well...it's one of my favorite small runs up there. I saw some pics from that stream in another one of your posts recently too. This Spring my brother in law hooked, but lost a very large Brookie in that hole...north of 10" easy. Was it still there?

We'll try to stop by the shop while we're up there if you'll be in.
