Jake,

Nice fallfish report - I stopped by a stream yesterday on my way home from a client - that Patapsco river. Some really cool looking water that is a put and take section for rainbows in the spring and fall. It's not cold enough to hold over trout, but it is not totally warm by any stretch, or at least it wasn't after a few nights near 60 degrees. In about 40 minutes I caught 2 big fallfish and 1 smallmouth. The fallfish actually jumped, twice, and for a second I thought maybe a rainbow HAD held over. They are very aggressive indeed, and I don't mind catching them - as the salt guys say - pullage is pullage!
