I know spot burning is a problem, but I agree that an information page is a good idea. I live in Berks and just to answer the original question, an Isonychia nymph is about the best you can get right now, about a size #16. I also like to work a Zug Bug in almost a streamer like action, produces some pretty vicious hits. Caddis pupa are also prevalent in many streams around here, a #16 Rockroller is never a bad choice.
