Its going on now, fish in the river and a billion snaggers on the banks.

I don't think anybody has considered a Salmon River JAM. However, if you are looking to go up, just post when you want to go and that you want to see if anybody else is interested. My schedule is pretty crazy right now, so I can not commit to anything. I WAS looking to go up the weekend after Columbus day, but I am not sure.

There's some "JAMs" run through other sites...I will be up there on Oct 14-15 and Veterans weekend for sure. Might put in some other trips depending on how the salt goes this year...kinda struck out on both last year
