FFP is open on Saturdays, but not Sundays.

Haven't been there recently, sorry. Would expect tricos to still be going, though the spinner fall may be getting later and more spread out with the cool weather, thus more of a muted fish response. Terrestrials I'm sure are still in play after the dew burns off. Perhaps BWO's starting up, but might still be too early. Always a few caddis fluttering about. But fall is an excellent nymphing time anyway you cut it. And if a storm brings up the water, throw black sculpins around.
