Let me help paint a picture for everyone.

Paflyfish is here to help foster a shared interest in expanding our knowledge, experience and most importantly our enjoyment for fly fishing in Pennsylvania region. Humor, ideas, debate, and opinions are encouraged. Deliberate insults, personal attacks, and lewd comments are not welcome for any reason.

As a community site that encourages fly fishing in Pennsylvania, this site also encourages the sharing of ideas, fish stories, stream locations, and general helping of others to learn more and become better fly fishing anglers.

If you don't like the policies please feel free to leave. If anyone feels the need to deliberately intimidate anyone for following this policy I assure you they will be booted.

This site has thousands of people that seem to enjoy the community we have created by being open. I have expressed this countless times and we are not going to change.

There are countless miles of public access waters that anglers are encouraged to fly fish over.
