TFO has some nice rods that wont set you back too much. Depending on what you have already, I would say a 10wt is about right. I like my Teton reel too. It's heavy but tough. Lamson has some nice reels also, i have a velocity for my 8wt. Little bit more $$ than the Teton.

There is a TON of bait in NJ right now, and the kayak guys were scoring on albies last week. seems to have slowed a bit. Some reports of bass to 30" in W NY sound too. Also from kayak. Some monster blues mixed in.
