

Subject: : Conservation

Topic: : Natural gas drilling accident along the Loyalsock?

Re: Natural gas drilling accident along the Loyalsock?

Author: : midgeman

Date: : 2012/9/25 1:32:09

URL:

Not once did I fish the sock when I lived in PA. So many wild streams, so little time. It was impressive sight during and after Lee hit. I find it hard to believe that permits are issued for an open cut of a stream for a feeding or gathering line. However, the TP and Marc 1 are eminent domain lines and obviously must receive a more relaxed type of permitting. Anyone who witnessed Lee should respect that THEY are installing the pipe in the safest manor to ensure the integrity of the pipe for years to come.