

Subject: : Fly Fishing Locations

Topic: : Posted Land on Penns Creek

Re: Posted Land on Penns Creek

Author: : Will

Date: : 2012/9/25 12:27:53

URL:

I'm not sure it matters a lot who owns the bridge, if the private landowner on either end of it declines to allow public access. If there were a public road crossing the bridge then there might be an easement allowing the public to scramble down the bank to access the river immediately adjacent to the bridge within the existing right-of-way. But based on the reports this is private land with no easement giving access even to the former railroad bed itself.