Thanks guys!

I fished the Saucon today; no sign of a hatch to be found. Not entirely surprising given the high, muddy water. I took two small browns in the morning on nymphs. I got frustrated and pulled out a hopper and had a ton of success on top. Seeing as something that makes no sense was catching fish I started skating a green drake and took some bigger fish. 19 in total with 7 in that 14-16" range. Great afternoon. I may go try the Little Lehigh tomorrow unless you guys recommend something else.
