Tim,

Yeah, you know what I mean. Mine all fell off almost immediately. I bought two more tubes just to be sure that I wasn't doing something wrong, and tried putting them on in different ways (one time twisting the rubber tube, one time just stretching it, and then alternating). I made sure that my leader was on the opposite side of the rubber tubing from where the slit is in the indicator. They came off the same regardless of what I did. I even tried changing how I was casting, but that didn't help.

Everyone's suggestions are very helpful. I'm going to give up on the Fish Pimps and try the suggestions.

Happy Fishing,
