Well I am fortunate enough to know a guy who knows a guy that has a cabin on Penns a couple of miles downstream from Coburn. My buddies and I are planning a late October trip up there to chase the legendary fall browns.

Just wondering if there are any good pattern recommendations up there? I am assuming dark buggers will be a go to for those aggressive browns but I have heard they can be quite discerning regarding generic fly patterns. Any tips will help....

This is my first trip to Penns and really my first trip on unstocked "wild" waters. So I am hoping I don't come back empty handed.

Cast Steady...
