

---

Subject: : Warm Water & Salt Water Fly-Fishing

Topic: : 100 stripers at Conowingo 9/29/12

100 stripers at Conowingo 9/29/12

Author: : glenrockonthefly

Date: : 2012/9/29 20:33:09

URL:

with that said...majority were under 12 inches!

So I headed down to Conowingo to fish the susky below the dam, I remember a few years ago at the end of Sept there were lots of small stripers feeding on small bait. so today did not disappoint! i started fishing around 8:30/45 and they were hitting a topwater that a spin-fisherman was throwing so i tied on a popper and got my first 10 or 12 on that. then there was a change in discharge and it was clouser time.

i fished until 2:00 and used a clouser either small #6 or a #1 but had best luck on the #6, chartruse with white or red worked great. I had a few times i caught 8-10 on cosectutive cast. There were multiple schools that would move close and then farther off so it could slow down for 15-20 min and then pick right back up.

I fished at the upstream side of the fishing platform, wading knee deep right off the big concrete "steps".

I caught at least 100 fish, with 20 or so 14-16 inch, 20 or so under 9 inch the rest were 10-12 or so inches.

Had some wind so used my 8 weight. Would have been a blast on the 6wt. Don't know how many more weeks they will be there.

Discharge was mostly low, but fluctuated 5-6 times.