My friend was in Montauk last weekend he had 60ish bass from 8-24lbs mostly on a white swimmer (he is fairly new to FFing) but did manage 3 on a yellow clouser.

The Striper season started like this last year. Montauk went crazy in early Oct and the NJ shore later in the month. The warm water lasted through the holidays and the fish stayed. Can't say that will happen this year, but one can only hope (and dream).
