Hey, maybe something like this guy would bring out some of those big brownies. You guys that can't deal with tying those size 26 ants could probably get away with tying these on a size 6 or 8, 4 XL hook. For the folks who really love to tie very realistic imitations, finding something to imitate those fancy big back legs would be a great challenge. Fish them through a meadow or areas with fairly high grass along the stream banks on a breezy fall afternoon.
