I'll be heading up to the Wierkert area tomorrow. Looks like were going to get some rain through here today and this evening and they can use a little rain up there. Hoping the rain doesn't blow it out. Probably going to have to deal with lots of leaves in the water too. But that's fall fishing it'll be a good day to be out. Just watch the weather and the USGS site for Penns. Sorry won't be back home in time to post a report for you. I am thinking it should fish pretty good.
