
Subject: : Warm Water & Salt Water Fly-Fishing

Topic: : YOY Smallmouths: Susquehanna River - 2012

Re: YOY Smallmouths: Susquehanna River - 2012

Author: : 1wt

Date: : 2012/10/21 0:35:17

URL:

Quote:

Maurice wrote:

If only we could stumble upon the magic bullet for near extirpation of the snakehead.

I didn't think the snakeheads were that bad in the lower susky? A few big Flatheads, but Snakeheads?

Maurice, you and I fish the same waters. It was a fishermen's paradise twenty years ago..... and now it really stinks!

Remember last year when you posted your trip to Wrightsville (at the John Wright Store) and you only caught one small catfish all night..... you complained about the crappy music there! lol

Ten years ago, the smallmouth bass would smash the white flies with gusto. Great top water fun with White Wulff's at that very spot.

Only five years ago, there were 5 fly fishermen there almost every night (I was one of them) and constant channel cat action on streamers when the bass left, we would fish for anything that bites!

I still fish all the lower Susky spots every few weeks, but it is so terrible..... it makes me sick!

The C&R is a good thing, but I don't see a rebound for the bass.