I personally can't say enough about the redington pursuit series, they have a 3wt 7'6" 4 piece that's $120 with a lifetime warranty on the rod.

And I would bet if you emailed them they could probably make a combo out of it for $180. As I have stated before, I went looking for an 8wt reel n line and left with this combo and love the heck out of it! Durable case that holds the reel while mounted to the rod, and rio main line prespooled. This was gonna be my short stream rod set up but I got a screamin deal on my 8'3" 3wt mystic m-series, so I bought a redington rise reel and rio avid trout instead, but now I get scared when I take that mystic out, fancy expensive stuff... Though it does have a lifetime warranty as well.

Good luck man! And remember to keep you back cast up, I contra toy catch the weeds in the bank gravel, when I'm not thinking about it.
