I got myself a 3wt 7'6" rod just for the tight areas... I was catching to many trees. The fight is great, the presentation is super quiet. However, I really didn't notice the difference in tree branches caught between the 7'6" and the 9.0". Part of the problem is mentality...Part of the solution is also mentality. I still needed to be aware that trees and weeds are still able to catch my flies as well as the fish are.
