Good stuff gents and much appreciated. Giving the wife the list for the holiday season and FFishing has replaced my golf wants.

Nice list of brands and I agree, warranty is imp't to me. Different but similar opinions and the feel and comfort will be up to me. From what you guys wrote, I'll probably go in the middle re: weight and take swattie's advice on line but I'll chat with him abt that if I find a rod I like. a new reel will be on the list.

Considering that I see myself spending a decent amt of time on streams like Valley & others in Berks, Bucks, Montgomery, LL; Am I correct that a 7 - 7'6 is the way to go when adding to my arsenal?

Mkern .. are you saying I should build my own rod? I haven't even stepped into the world of fly tying so this may be a daunting task 😊
