Stagger,

Yeah building a rod with supervision would be easy and a weekend project.

If you don't want to build find somebody who would do it for you.

Side note: my 6'6" 2 wt. cost me $35 and is a Pac Bay blank with a wood reel seat.

My reel was a SA from Walmart for $25 (on sale) and the line was discounted to $10.

$70 for a whole combo that will last a lifetime and has never had a problem catching fish. To me that's way better than $200 on a rod and $100 for a reel.
